Both the AirStrip ONE® mobile interoperability platform and the Sense4Baby wireless fetal/maternal monitoring system will be available as part of the agreement.

“We are delighted to partner with AirStrip in Australia and New Zealand,” said Cardioscan CEO Merredea Hudgson. “Our pedigree of managing time-sensitive health information over 30 years has us well placed to support the AirStrip rollout. Life Monitor streamlines connectivity across the healthcare sector, providing the Ideal Life Operating platform and associate peripheral devices to enable clients to remotely manage health and wellness at home, especially for chronic disease management.
